
Delivering Results With Confidence

Since 2010 the International Academy of Public Safety (IAPS) has been an innovation hub, operating a learning management system (LMS) that incorporates training specifically for the public safety professional. The Institute for Credible Leadership Development (ICLD), a division of IAPS, is dedicated to the leadership development of all employees from hire to retire.

The Institute offers a Series of courses, based on ethical leadership development, customized and adopted by over 120 criminal justice agencies across America. The Series is designed to provide a transformative experience that equips officers and staff to perform 21st Century professional leadership practices throughout the organization.

This coursework is presented affordably on-line and has been tailored for deputy sheriffs, police officers, correctional officers and the staffs who support them.

This curriculum takes participants on an in-depth journey by addressing relevant topics and proven theories. This allows them to practice and master concepts and skills designed to promote organizational excellence and positive community outcomes.

Participant Feedback

"The opportunity to participate in this nationally recognized course has truly provided me with a comprehensive understanding of the principles of leadership. Having now completed the course, I have over 120 pages of notes and a full toolbox of Leadership theories, components, and reality based principles in which to draw from as I move forward in my journey in Law
